Christmas on The Gulf Coast, 1987

On The Mississippi Gulf Coast, winter presents an upsidedown world to us transplanted Yankees.
Shorts-clad shoppers crowd the malls and carollers coat their hymns with drawls.
But the colors of Christmas abound—
the green of evergreens and shrubs, the pinks and golds of December sunsets,
the reds of Confederate roses and camellias in full bloom.
We have watched the robins wend their way South and revelled in the annual migration of the Monarch butterflies.

The oyster harvesters rake the nearby reefs.
At night, when the tides roll in and the Star glitters coldly, the galloping winds splash the combers over the seawall,
and we ache with the sheer wonder of being alive.
And sometimes, as a lagniappe, Mother Nature sends a white pelican to perch gracefully upon the sands of the Sound—to stretch and preen gracefully and bring us glad promises of a joyous, free and harmonious New Year.

In Memoriam

In Memory
Of Our Baby
JUSTIN DANIEL FRICKE
Born Oct. 24, 1986
Died Oct. 24, 1986

On this lonely Christmas Eve we must remember, Dear, that even though you're not with us your spirit is ever near.

We know your tree must shine so bright on this lonely Christmas night.

We can almost see its lights and hear the angels sing, though our hearts are saddened because you are not here.

We want to say in this special way we love you and miss you, Dear.

Your Light Shines for Us.

A BLESSING CALLED
DAVID
DAVID P. ANSELMO
Born Aug. 31, 1976
Died Feb. 2, 1987

When I was born some thought of my birth as a cross to bear, but you only saw me as a joy and a miracle. You knew I needed more and you gave it selflessly. You didn't mind that I could not walk as long as my arms could wrap around you, and my lips say, "I love you."

As I grew, you always saw what I could do, not what I could not, and I drew my courage from that.

They say I was a brave little boy, but only because you made me so. It was your courage that fed me, I was really scared.

As time went on I drew from your love and strength; my need was great and you always fulfilled it.

So now that the circle has come around full, it is you who are in need. I give you my love, I give you back the courage and strength you gave to me, and I give you faith for now I no longer need you to carry me; it is my turn to lift you up and carry you.

Pass attorney facing murder charges following wife's auto collision death

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

A preliminary hearing for Melbourne E. Joseph Jr., 40, of 709 Palmetto Cove, north of Pass Christian, is tentatively scheduled for 5 p.m. Jan. 6.

Judge John C. Chevis Wednesday scheduled the hearing in an initial appearance by Joseph in answer to charges filed against him Tuesday for the murder of his estranged wife, Diane Joseph.

Joseph, a Pass Christian attorney, allegedly killed his wife Tuesday by crashing his car into the back of her car about 2:48 p.m. as she waited at a stop sign at North Second Street.

According to witnesses, Mrs. Joseph had just left her apartment at 117-De Montluzin St. and stopped at stop sign on North Second Street when Joseph hit her car from the back with the car he was driving, Bay St. Louis Police Chief Ray Murphy said Wednesday.

Murphy also said Joseph had apparently been waiting in his Oldsmobile Toronado for his wife.

The impact forced her car through the intersection and into a utility pole, he continued.

Murphy said witnesses reported that Joseph fled the scene immediately but a witness wrote down the license plate number and reported it to the police.

Witnesses estimated Joseph's speed at 65-70 miles per hour but there is no way factually to determine his speed, Murphy added.

Speed calculations may be made at times by measuring skid marks left on the pavement but Murphy said there were no skid marks at the scene.

"Apparently he did not attempt to stop," Murphy said.

The police secured a warrant for Joseph's arrest for aggravated assault by approximately 4 p.m. and were preparing to go to Pass Christian in search of him when he turned himself in to the police department.

Joseph said he had been involved in an accident and he was then advised there was a warrant for his arrest, Murphy said.

The warrant was later amended to reflect murder charges following the death of Mrs. Joseph during surgery at Hancock Medical Center approximately two and a half hours following the collision.

An autopsy showed Mrs. Joseph died of extensive internal injuries, according to Phillip Wolfe, HMC administrator.

Murphy said Joseph had very little to say during questioning but that he had alleged that the accident was caused by his brakes which failed.

Joseph's car is being investigated to determine if there was any trouble with the brakes, Murphy said.

He also reported Joseph had been treated and released from the Hancock Medical Center.

Murphy said Joseph had complained of neck and back pain and had been given a physical at the hospital.

Bail for Joseph is set at $100,000 and he remained in the Hancock County Jail late Wednesday.

Murphy said the Josephs were apparently having domestic problems and were seeking a divorce. Their daughter, Wendy Joseph, 16, is a student at Our Lady Academy in Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Joseph worked for Rocketdyne at National Space Technology Laboratories Space Shuttle testing complex.

BEHOLD... A Child Is Born

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men.

ST. LUKE, 2:9-14

The White House Washington

A holiday message from the First Lady

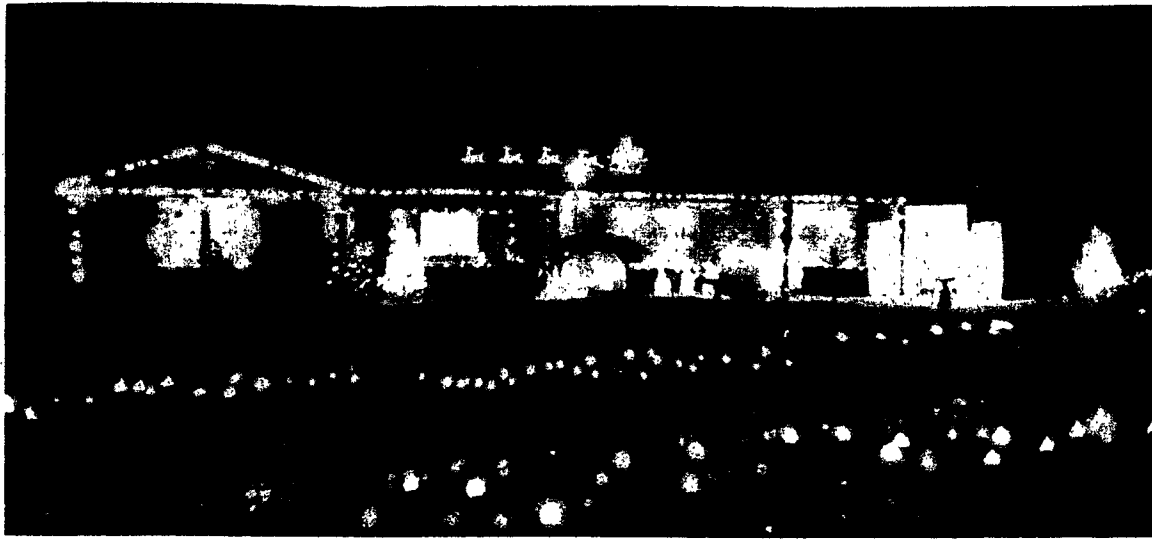

At this time of year when the nation's capital is aglow with holiday lights and the season's spirit of love, peace and good will, I'm always reminded of another special kind of love. And that is the way in which Foster Grandparents give so generously to children with special needs. These children include those youngsters who are at risk of losing their lives to drugs and alcohol.

For decades, I have supported the Foster Grandparent Program. I have seen hundreds of "grandparents" working with youngsters in schools, hospitals, juvenile detention centers, shelters for neglected children and homes for the mentally retarded. If there is one place where the holiday spirit truly shines all year, it's in the hearts of these senior volunteers and the relationships with their "grandchildren."

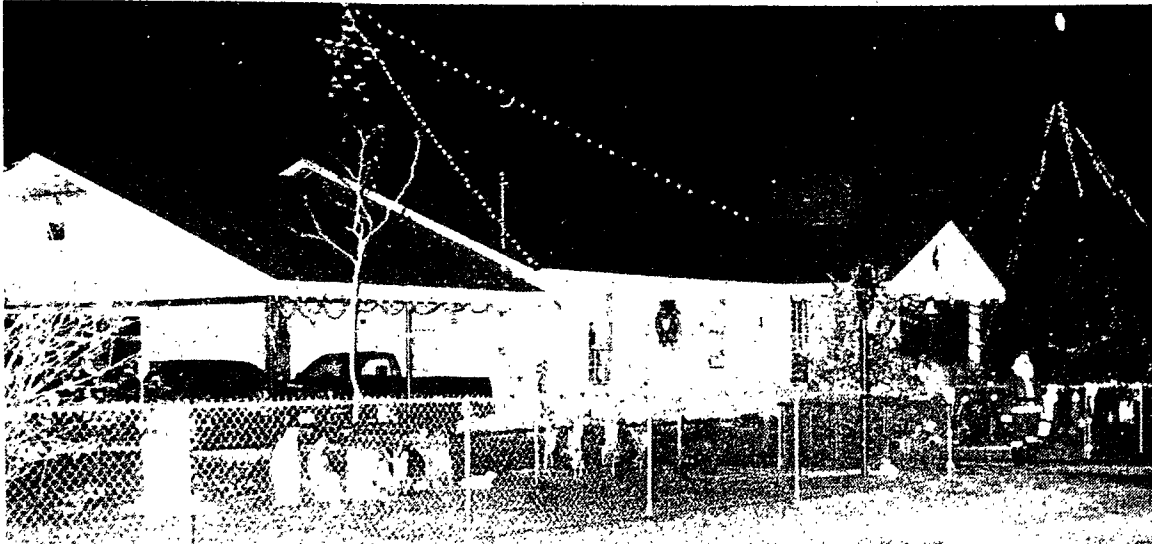

Foster grandparents often reach children who may seem unreachable. They bring hope and light to youngsters who have known only confusion and loneliness. Yet the volunteers will tell you that they benefit as much as the children. Their service brings them the chance to give and learn and grow as well as a wonderful sense of satisfaction. I have never seen another program where the old and the young benefit so much from one another.

During this holiday season, as we pray for peace and thank God for the gift of love and our precious freedom, let us also open our hearts to children who are threatened by the horrors of substance abuse. At this most appropriate time, I ask every citizen to join in helping our Foster Grandparents touch more young lives at risk. You can help fulfill our dream that in holiday seasons to come, the faces of all America's children will shine with love and laughter, and their lives will be drug and alcohol free.

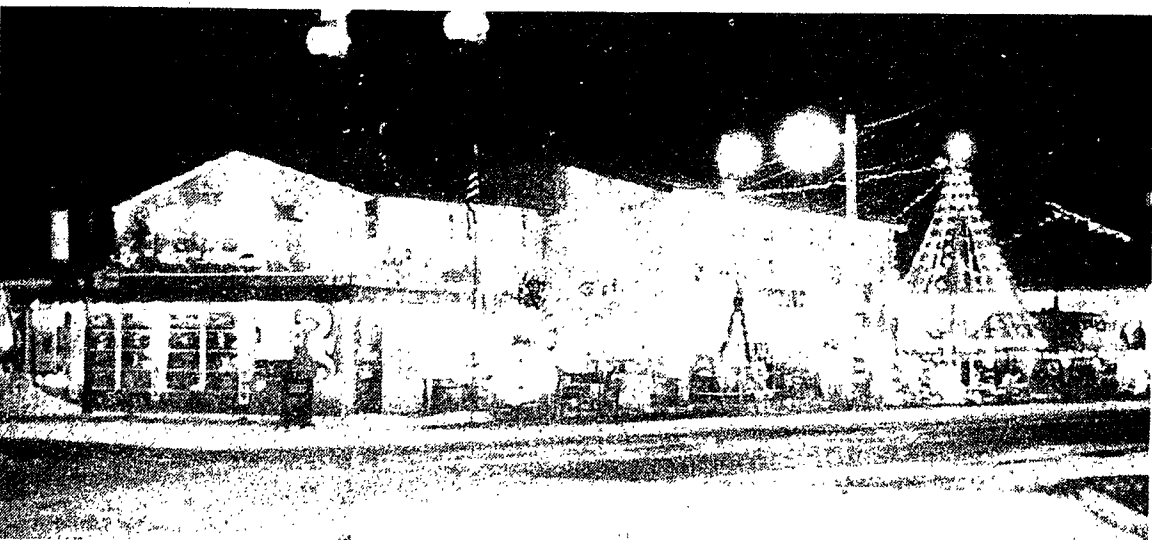

Sincerely,
Nancy Reagan

State jobless rate rises

JACKSON—The November jobless rate for Mississippi rose to 9.4 percent, according to Thomas H. Dyson, Mississippi Employment Security Commission executive director.

This rate was two tenths percentage point above one month ago, when the rate stood at 9.2 percent.

This was 1.8 percentage points below the 11.2 percent reported November 1986. Continued seasonal decreases in agricultural and increases in nonagricultural employment combined to produce another good economic report.

Place of residence employment for October stood at 1,058,100 in a labor force of 1,168,300. There were 11,400 less people employed in November than last month and 21,500 more than November 1986.

Manufacturing establishments provided 227,700 jobs, the highest level since the 227,500 were reported in February and March 1980. Non-manufacturing businesses provided 651,400 jobs in November. Manufacturing jobs increased 500 from one month ago and dramatically 4,800 from November 1986. Nonmanufacturing provided 700 more jobs this month than last month and 14,900 more than last year. This monthly employment of 651,400 represents the largest number of jobs ever supported by nonmanufacturing industries.

There were 76,682 claims filed in November 1987 as compared to 73,014 during October and 109,863 one year ago. There were 7,630 job openings received in November compared to 9,914 last month and 5,662 one year ago. Of those received 6,662, 8,849 and 4,824 were filled by local Employment Service Offices.

The People's Business

Weekly Editorial
From Mississippi Economic Council

LOOKING AHEAD TO CHANGE

This holiday season is often a time of reflecting on the past year and looking ahead to the next.

In Mississippi, both the past year and the upcoming one evoke optimism.

The state economy has not escaped the downturns experienced by the nation, particularly in some of its historically dominant industries. But at the same time, Mississippi is building its technology base, a part of the economy that is ensured a bright future.

During the past year, Mississippi has put in motion a lot of changes that should yield impressive results in the future. Much of this change has centered on the state leadership, and this new leadership is inspiring others to enter the public arena and the private sector to become more involved.

The next year will be a crucial one for Mississippi. The optimism that is running through the state now must continually be fueled by involvement.

That involvement includes not only the conscientious hard work of the state's public officials, but the interest of the private sector.

Mississippi has a great opportunity in the year ahead. It should be a time to further the change that already has begun.

Officials commend participation which made Doll and Toy benefit a success

Dec. 22, 1987
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

To the Editor:

This year's Doll and Toy Fund Car Wash at Gulf National Bank was a tremendous success. It raised over $500 to help buy toys for needy children throughout Hancock County.

Many local elected officials and public employees contributed to the effort—both by cleaning cars and donating supplies. We also had a number of guest workers. The Immigration Service detainees from the Sheriff's office cheerfully pitched in. Bob Noonan of WLOX Newswatch 13 made a "special appearance" as a window washer for the entire day. Jake Jacob also lent a hand by mopping the vacuum.

We want to give a special thanks to several young people. Daniel B. Murphy and Sarah Taylor did top notch interior detail work. Darrell, Raleigh and Benny Murphy passed out leaflets, in addition to those distributed by Jitney Jungle. It is heartwarming to see such a contribution at an early age.

Most of all, we want to thank the people of this community. You proved there is still a little Christmas magic in the world. How else could a bunch of dirty cars light up the faces of nearly 800 youngsters receiving toys made possible by your generosity?

Thanks for sharing the spirit of Christmas with those in need.

Sincerely yours,

Road edge, shoulder conditions keep motorists in middle of the road

Dec. 19, 1987
To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor,

I have a bit of information for the enlightenment of some of the newcomers who may move to or visit our Bay-Waveland area.

My husband and I moved here six and one-half years ago from a big city, and for the life of me I couldn't figure out why so many people drive in the middle of the street or road, as the case may be.

Even asked my friend who has been living here 43 years and she didn't know either.

Well, let me tell you, it took me six years to come to the explanation. With the car-banging, tire-splitting, teeth-rattling, spring-busting holes on the sides, who can blame us?

To name one, have you driven on Old Spanish Trail lately?

Needless to say, I now do the same and apologize to all the people I have put down through the years.

Happy motoring, and may luck be with us.

Newspaper echoes communist rot

Dear Editor,

When communism seeks to enslave a nation, the first step in the order of things is to manipulate the press through which they accuse the host country of all the sordid rot that communism is guilty of itself.

To illustrate this truism, read what Chomsky is telling our college youth about the United States on Page 3C in The Sea Coast Echo 12-17-87.

SWAN LAKE

The beautiful swan queen woos a handsome prince. An evil sorcerer casts a spell to keep the young lovers apart. Only true love can save them.

The German fairy tale, "Swan Lake," encores on Mississippi ETV when "Great Performances" reprises "Wolf Trap Presents The Kirov: Swan Lake" at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 27.

The Emmy award-winning program was taped at the Wolf Trap park, the nation's only national park for the performing arts, during the Kirov's unprecedented 1986 tour of the United States.

Kirov principal dancers Olga Tcheychikova (Odette-Odile) and Konstantin Zaklinsky (the prince) portray the young lovers. Eldar Aliev portrays the evil sorcerer, Rothbart. Featuring the original score by Tchaikovsky, "Swan Lake" has been in the ballet company's repertoire for nearly 100 years.

Greg Necaise named to Juco All-State first team

Several Pearl River College football Wildcats have picked up post-season honors for their performance during the past season.

Trace McRaney on second team

Offensive tackle Devin Rogers (6'5-320) from Chalmette led the way by being named the Most Valuable Offensive Lineman in the state as well as taking All-Region XXIII honors and a listing on the Junior College's Grid-Wire second team All-American list.

Rogers, who also played in the annual Mississippi Junior College All-Star game, was the only Mississippi player to make the Gridwire's first or second team All-American list.

Freshman linebacker Greg Necaise of Bay St. Louis made the first team All-State defense team while teammates Trace McRaney, also of Bay St. Louis; Arthur Dozier of Hattiesburg and Jerry Rush of Peachtree, Georgia made the second team All-State team.

McRaney was an offensive guard, while Dozier played wide-receiver and Rush at running back. Both Dozier and Rush participated in the All-Star game.

Defensive tackle Lionel Ellison of New Orleans and tight-end Tracy Boyd of Crowley, La. also played in the All-Star game.

BUCCANEER STATE PARK manager Greg Smith, right, accepted the state park award for best maintained park in the southern district at an awards ceremony held recently at Hugh White State Park. Joe Rieux, center, was named Outstanding Maintenance Supervisor, Class IV park. Aubrey Rozzell, left, director of the Bureau of Recreation and Parks, presented the awards.

Five Hawks named All-District, Booker named Burger King Star

Five members of the Hancock North Central Hawks football team have been named to the 1987 All-District 4-A Team and one has been named to the Burger King All-Star Team.

According to Hawk Head Coach Irvin Favre, the All-District players include Cory Blaize, Darrell Booker, Chris LaCoste, Vincent Cuevas and Donald Vince.

The Hawks also received four All-District honorable mentions, which went to Jeff Moran, Brian Myers, Marty Smith and Terrence Goff.

Booker was also selected as a member of the 13th annual Burger King All-Star Team, Favre said.

The 5-foot-9, 240-pound senior was one of 24 players selected from a six-county area along the Gulf Coast.

Booker, named to the team as a linebacker, was presented a trophy at a recent banquet at the Biloxi Hilton.

Favre said the Hawks have had a player named to the Burger King All-Star Team for the past three consecutive years.

Booker was the fifth Hancock North Central player selected in the program.

Rebel Tip-Off Club looking for new members

Businessman Rex Jarrett of Oxford is trying to rebuild the Rebel Tip-Off Club with the same attitude that head coach Ed Murphy is rebuilding the Ole Miss basketball program.

"I would like to get to about 2,000 members before the end of basketball season," said Jarrett. "We need people to join that love basketball, especially Ole Miss basketball. We want to have people that really want to see Ole Miss be one of the top programs in the Southeastern Conference and the nation."

The Rebel Tip-Off Club was started by former head coach Bob Weltlich during his stay at Ole Miss (1976-82). When it started, the Tip-Off Club had over 450 members. It fell to about 45 members when Lee Hunt left Ole Miss as head coach. Currently, the Tip-Off Club has 125 members and growing everyday.

"People don't really understand why we need the Tip-Off Club so much," said head coach Ed Murphy. "Programs around the nation have clubs like this to get support, both in crowd support and financial support. The Tip-Off Club will help us be on par with the rest of these schools."

Members in the Tip-Off Club receive an Ole Miss lapel pin, an Ole Miss basketball media guide, weekly newsletters containing statistics and information about the Rebels, and the opportunity to join both visiting and Ole Miss coaches for breakfast or lunch on home game dates. Many more activities are being planned for the future by the Tip-Off Club.

Memberships cost $25 per year and Ole Miss students can join for just $15. For more information about the Tip-Off Club, call the Ole Miss basketball office (232-7534) or write to Mike Smith, Rebel Tip-Off Club, Route 5, Box 38, Oxford, Miss. 38655.

Two-county chase nets counterfeiting suspect

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

What started out as a routine stop of a suspicious vehicle for Bay St. Louis Police Officer Tom Burleson Saturday morning ended up with him being dragged by the car, struck by the car and counterfeiting equipment being confiscated.

Burleson ran a routine wanted persons check on Robert Earl Wallace, 31, after stopping the red 1977 Chevrolet Monte Carlo on US-90 near Seminary Drive, according to Bay St. Louis Detective Chuck James.

Through the National Crime Information Computer Burleson learned there was a warrant for Wallace's arrest in Florida, he added.

Burleson next asked Wallace if he had the car's registration papers.

After a search of the glove compartment by Wallace for the vehicle's registration, Burleson asked Wallace to stand behind the automobile while he searched for vehicle registration.

But Wallace got back into the car and said Burleson wasn't going to search the car without a search warrant.

Then the suspect began driving toward the Bay of St. Louis Bridge with Burleson hanging onto the car from the passenger door. He was dragged a few feet before letting go and returning to his police vehicle to begin pursuit.

Bay Police Department notified the Pass Christian Police of the pursuit and Pass Christian officer Perry

Ladner parked his vehicle across the lane of US-90 near Cedar Lane in Henderson Point in an attempt to force Wallace to stop.

Wallace drove around the Pass police vehicle and proceeded down the highway with Burleson and Ladner in pursuit.

Pass Christian Officer Vic Jerone waited for Wallace in the median between the lanes of US-90 near Church Street with his weapon drawn.

Wallace steered the vehicle toward Jerone but lost control and the car fishtailed, went into the west-bound lane and then struck a tree.

The suspect regained control and proceeded to drive east in the west-bound lane for approximately one and a half miles before turning onto Davis Street.

From Davis Street he turned onto North Street and then Church Street where he travelled until he apparently thought it was a dead end.

As Wallace turned his vehicle around, Burleson got out of his patrol unit and told Wallace to stop.

But Wallace drove his vehicle straight toward Burleson and struck him on his left leg below the knee cap.

The force of the blow spun Burleson around but he regained control and fired two shots at the left rear tire of Wallace's vehicle.

Wallace then lost control of the vehicle and struck a house at 508 Church Street. Next he jumped out of the vehicle and began running on foot.

The subject jumped a fence but Burleson captured Wallace approximately 30 feet beyond the fence.

A check of Wallace's car revealed counterfeiting equipment and the Secret Service was called in on the case.

Secret Service officers and law enforcement officers from the Bay St. Louis Police Department and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department also searched a Nevada Street residence in Shoreline Park and found additional counterfeiting equipment.

Wallace is being held in the Hancock County Jail on a $30,000 bond for charges in Bay St. Louis and an additional $20,000 bond for charges in Pass Christian.

He is facing charges of aggravated assault on a police officer, resisting arrest and possession of counterfeiting paraphernalia in Bay St. Louis.

The Pass Christian Police Department has filed 16 non-felony misdemeanor traffic violation charges against Wallace.

The Secret Service investigation is on going.

Florida authorities are also initiating proceedings to extradite Wallace to Florida where he will face grand larceny charges.

Officer Burleson was treated and released from the Hancock Medical Center for a minor scrape below his knee where Wallace's vehicle struck him.

Some Bay St. Louis utility customers eligible for rebate

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Some Bay St. Louis utility customers will be getting a postcard this week reporting their eligibility for utility rebate.

The card says an audit of the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District revealed Bay St. Louis utility customers in 1983-1986 had been overcharged.

"We have settled this claim, and are passing the savings on to you," the card states.

The amount of the rebate to the city from the wastewater district was approximately $54,000 and the per-customer rebates will range from $5.17 to $20.68, Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr. reported.

The rebate amount will depend on how many years each person was a customer during the time when the overcharges occurred.

"Customers may either apply the rebate to their January bill or contribute the rebate to the Warm Neighbor Program," he said.

The Warm Neighbor Program, a fund to help needy customers in the city pay their utility bills, was started several months ago but currently there is only a couple hundred dollars in the fund, said City Clerk Edward A. Favre.

Customers will be asked "in the spirit of the holiday" to donate there rebate to the Warm Neighbor program.

This program is run by a committee composed of the Red Cross, St.

Vincent de Paul Society, the Welfare Department and the Community Action Agency.

The card has space for customers to indicate if the rebate is to be donated to the program or applied to January bills and it should be returned to city hall with January bills.

The Bay St. Louis City Council approved the card in Tuesday's meeting.

Brought To You By Jim Henrie

One of football's great legends concerns George Gipp, who played his last season for Notre Dame in 1920. Here are the details of that legend. Gipp became ill during his senior year and was on his death bed. Coach Knute Rockne came to visit, and Gipp gave Rockne the basis for the most famous pep talk in football history. Gipp reportedly said, "I've got to go now, Rock. It's all right. But sometimes, Rock, when the team's up against it; when things are wrong and the breaks are beating the boys, tell them to go in there with all they've got—and win one for the Gipper." Rockne waited till halftime of the Notre Dame-Army game of 1928. He used Gipp's last words as his pep talk. Needless to say, Notre Dame won that day.

Can you name the only major college football bowl game that's been played in THREE different cities? It's the Liberty Bowl, first played in Philadelphia, then in Atlantic City, N.J., and now in Memphis, Tenn.

Who's the oldest man ever to play in the National Football League? The record is held by quarterback and place-kicker George Blanda who was 48 years old when he played for Oakland in 1975.

special to feature excerpts from

Handel's 'Messiah'

UNIVERSITY—The University of Mississippi's annual Christmas gift to the Mid-South—a musical television special featuring the world-renowned Ole Miss Choirs—will this year feature excerpts from Handel's "Messiah."

A performance of the Christmas portions of the three-part oratorio by the choir with the Tupelo Symphony and solos by Ole Miss music faculty members has been videotaped by the Communication and Resource Center, and highlights will be edited into a 30-minute program for showing on Christmas Day. The program will include the "Hallelujah Chorus."

According to Marie Antoon, CRC production coordinator and producer of the annual program, seven Mississippi television stations have already scheduled the program and others may be added later. Sponsors for the "Messiah" broadcast are The Republic Bank for Savings, F.A., and The Andrew Jackson Group affiliated insurance, investment and finance companies, both with home offices in Jackson, along with the University of Mississippi Foundation.

The program will air at 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 25 on WABG-TV in Greenwood-Greenville, WCBI-TV in Columbus, WLBT-TV in Jackson, WLOX-TV in Biloxi-Gulfport and WTOX-TV in Meridian. A 6:30 a.m. broadcast on WREG-TV in Memphis will greet early risers on Christmas morning. A 5 p.m. broadcast on WTVB-TV in Tupelo and WNTZ-TV of Natchez will show the "Messiah" highlights at 7 p.m.

ASCS Reports

WHEAT PAYMENTS

Wheat deficiency payments due eligible producers in December will be issued in generic commodity certificates, according to Franklin A. Gennin, County Executive Director of the Pearl River-Hancock ASCS Office.

Under the 1987 acreage reduction programs, producers could earn deficiency payments on the actual acreage planted within the permitted acreage for the crops.

Under certain conditions, producers who did not plant the full permitted acreage to a program crop but who devoted acres to a conserving use, could earn deficiency payments on up to 92 percent of their permitted acreage.

The acreage reduction programs required farmers to reduce their wheat base acres by 27.5 percent and feed grain acres by at least 20 percent. Nationally, ASCS will disburse about $1.2 billion in deficiency payments to wheat producers and $100 million to barley producers. A portion of these payments was made available in advance.

DAIRY PROGRAM

To comply with the sequester order issued by President Reagan Nov. 20, under the requirements of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended, the U.S. Department of Agriculture will reduce payments made by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) for any dairy products purchased under the dairy price support program.

Franklin A. Gennin, County executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock ASCS Office, said the mandatory spending reductions could be rescinded if legislation is enacted that implements the new budget agreement recently announced by the President and Congress.

"The dairy price support of $11.10 per hundredweight of milk and the CCC purchase prices for cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk will remain unchanged through Dec. 31st," Gennin said. However, payments made for any dairy products purchased after Nov. 20 will be reduced by 8.5 percent, the amount specified in the sequester order.

Two Mississippi military contracts total over $41 million

Two contracts for defense projects in Mississippi total over $41 million, Senator Thad Cochran said.

The senator said the military contract work involved projects at Ingalls shipyard in Pascagoula and the Army Ammunition Plant in Hancock County.

The Navy has awarded a contract of $28,780,830 to Ingalls for overhaul work on the USS Richard K. Turner.

Work on the overhaul project at the Pascagoula shipyard is expected to be completed by early July 1989, the Navy said.

And, the Army has awarded an additional $12,254,078 to the Mason Chamberlain Corporation at the National Space Technology Laboratory at Bay St. Louis for operation and maintenance of the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant.

The Army said the latest award to Mason Chamberlain is part of an overall contract totaling more than $215.6 million.

acreage of oats that could be planted, farmers have had trouble finding seeds.

While not specifically recommending any planting after the first of the year, Houston said oats would be preferable to wheat, if the seeds can be found.

State Crop Report Dec. 12-18

"There is not going to be a great deal of growth during the next month with winter coming on," said Dr. Wayne Houston, an agronomist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. "The wheat is just past the coming up stage."

Houston said most concern is centered on the possibility of severe freezes during the next month, which could seriously damage the crop because it is so much smaller than usual.

He said fertilization not recommended. "There is not a whole lot farmers can do except leave it alone," Houston said. He declined making any predictions concerning the final harvest forecast in the state.

Houston said the amount of wheat planted appears to be about the same as last year, which was more than 280,000 acres.

Concerning Mississippi's oat crop, which covers much less acreage than the wheat, Houston said that it is in about the same stage as the winter wheat. He said oats are even more susceptible to cold weather.

Oats have grown in their appeal to farmers because of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service's (ASCS) cross compliance program. Houston said that although farmers have been attracted by the lack of restrictions on the amount of

TIMBERLINE

By Mark Jamieson
Hancock County Forester

By Mark Jamieson
County Forester
Mississippi Forestry Commission

Fire must be used with caution
Fire, once the terror of foresters, is now one of our most useful tools.

We call fire that's being used as a forest management tool in pine timber "Prescribed Burning." It is an economical and efficient method of achieving a diversity of forest management objectives, but it must be done under very carefully
"Prescribed" conditions.

One of the most important reasons we use prescribed burning is to reduce potentially hazardous "fuels," thus decreasing the risk of wildfire damage.

The avalanche of October-November wildfires we had would not have caused near the damage it inflicted if the burned areas had been carefully prescription burned in prior years.

Prescribed burning can also be used to prepare sites for seeding and planting. Burning exposes the mineral soil, controls competing vegetation, and removes debris that may impede new growth.

Through burning, wildlife habitat can be improved by increasing the amount of quality herbage, legumes, and browse from hardwoods. It also creates openings for wildlife feeding and travel.

Other objectives prescribed burning can achieve are controlling disease; improving the quality and quantity of grasses and flowering plants; enhancing appearance for recreation purposes and improving efficiency in harvesting.

Prescribed burning should always be done under correct time and weather conditions. Timing is especially important when fire is used to prepare sites for seeding and planting.

If hardwood control is the objective, sites should be burned during the spring and summer. More than one burn may be required to control hardwood. Otherwise, burns should take place in the fall or winter.

Fall and winter burning is best for spring sowing, and summer and early fall burns are used on areas targeted for natural regeneration or direct seeding.

The most important weather considerations when planning a burn are wind, relative humidity, temperature, rainfall, and smoke dispersion.

Generally, winds should be no more than two to ten miles per hour for most terrain. Relative humidity should be from 30 to 50 percent.
Preferred air temperature for winter burns is 20 to 50 degrees F.

For summer burning air temperatures of 80 to 95 degrees are recommended. The soil should be moist. One half to one inch of rainfall is desired one to three days before the burn.

The preferred range of actual fine fuel moisture, which is influenced by relative humidity, rainfall, and temperature, is from seven to twenty percent.

Smoke management becomes an important consideration along highways and near populated areas.

Fire weather forecasts we receive from the National Weather Service help us to plan our prescription burning so as to avoid smoke management problems. Perfect burning weather sometimes only occurs four or five days during the winter.

the most important point to remember in prescribed burning is to get professional help. This is not a "do-it-yourself" project. Qualified crews with adequate equipment are required.

When burning permits are not being issued during severe fire danger periods no prescribed burning should be attempted.

Also, remember that prescribed burning should never be used where hardwoods are being managed as the main crop. Fires, whether planned or unplanned, are taboo in hardwood forests.

The Forestry Commission personnel in Hancock County are available to plan firelanes and conduct prescribed burning for minimal fees.

If you are unsure of the needs of your property take advantage of our

BaySide burglars net $12,000 in cash, valuables

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Hancock County Sheriff's office is investigating a burglary Monday night at a BaySide Park mobile home where the estimated loss is $12,000.

Investigator Glen Strong said Wednesday the sheriff's office has many clues to aid in the investigation including fingerprints.

Burglars entered the home of Emile Billiot Jr. on Sunflower Street by breaking the glass in the rear door of the trailer and opening three locks.

Billiot said the burglars had also tried the windows and front door.

Items taken in the burglary and the value includes a stereo system, $2,000; jewelry including wedding rings, $2,000; three shotguns, $1,800, a silver coin collection, a piggy bank, food items and $5,000 cash.

Billiot says he had only recently added the extra locks and had security lights around the trailer but there is no insurance or alarms.

Milk price increases; production declines

Prices Mississippi dairy farmers received for milk increased about 4 percent in 1987, but production declined by 8 percent.

"Milk production went down because of the reduction in milk cow numbers caused by the Dairy Herd Buyout Program of the U.S. Department of Agriculture," said Dr.
Charles Walden, a dairy economist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. "Milk production per cow reached an all-time high in the state of 10,200 pounds of milk per cow."

Walden said the total value of milk production was $116 million, down $12 million from 1986.

"We could see profits in 1988 slightly below those of 1987," Walden said. "Production is beginning to increase nationwide and prices could average slightly lower. Feed costs also may increase slightly in 1988."

Public invited to Dye reception

The public is invited to attend a reception honoring Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Brad dye following the Lieutenant Governor's inauguration on Thursday, Jan. 7.

The reception will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the Old Supreme Court Chamber, Room 216, of the New Capitol in Jackson.

The lieutenant governor and six other state officials will be sworn in at ceremonies during a Joint Session of the Legislature. Following the swearing-in ceremony, Dye will make his inaugural address.

Motorists may encounter patrol roadblocks during holidays

An expired driver's license or inspection sticker, exceeding the posted speed limit, or driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol may prove costly to Mississippi motorists during the Christmas and New Year's holiday periods.

Enforcement plans of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol include roadblocks to identify drivers under the influence of drugs or alcohol and drivers whose licenses or automobile inspection stickers have expired.

Additionally, state troopers will be using non-radar monitoring devices and surveillance aircraft to locate reckless drivers, speed law violators and stranded motorists.

"It may sound like we are being less than generous during this special time of year but sometimes a crackdown is necessary before people remember to renew a driver's license or an inspection sticker," said James L. Roberts Jr., commissioner of public safety.

He said Highway Patrol roadblocks will be set up in various sections of the state beginning the week of Christmas and extending through the first week of January.

"The roadblocks give our officers a prime way of locating drivers who are under the influence of drugs or alcohol. When a person drinks and drives everybody is at risk. Even a few 'social' drinks can impair a person's ability to drive long before the level of legal intoxication is reached," Roberts said.

The Highway Patrol encourages motorists to follow these safety tips:

- Wear your seat belt.
- Do not drink and drive.
- If you are drinking alcoholic beverages, limit yourself to one drink or less per hour. Your body needs about one hour to eliminate the alcohol in one drink.
- Try to finish your last drink at least an hour before you think you might be driving.
- Eat before you drink any alcoholic beverages. Snacks can slow down the rate at which your body absorbs alcohol.
- Plan to use the "Designated Driver" approach: One person in a group drinks only nonalcoholic beverages during the evening. This person drives the others home. At the next gathering, another person refrains from drinking alcohol and the responsibility is rotated.

Col. D.D. Cvitanovich, chief of the Highway Patrol, said, "Motorists who are driving with an expired license or whose automobile has an expired inspection sticker are committing offenses that are classified as non-hazardous. Although the violations are considered non-hazardous an uninspected automobile can be extremely hazardous because the possibility exists that the vehicle has faulty equipment that can be life threatening."

"Our main objective is to reduce the needless loss of lives and human suffering that results from automobile crashes, regardless of the reason," he added.

The regular state trooper force will be augmented in their enforcement efforts by 43 of the 47 men and women who were sworn in as troopers on Friday, Dec. 18, 1987. Four of the newly commissioned officers were assigned to the Driver Services Bureau.

"The Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol is making an all-out effort to reduce the death rate on Mississippi highways," said Lt. Col. Donald O'Cain, assistant chief of the Highway Patrol.

"We have had tremendous success using non-radar speed monitoring devices and surveillance aircraft to combat the professional speeder. Both of these methods of enforcement will be used during the holidays," the assistant chief said.

The 102-hour Christmas holiday period begins at 6 p.m., Wednesday, December 23, and ends at midnight Sunday, Dec. 27, 1987. There were five people killed during the 1986 Christmas observance.

The 102-hour New Year's observance extends from 6 p.m. Wednesday, December 30, 1987, until midnight, Sunday, Jan. 3, 1988. Seven people died during the 1986-87 New Year's observance.

Consumer Update on Home-Based Business

By Janet K. Lukens
Coast Consumer
Management Center

The appeal of increasing income, working flexible hours, having personal control, and utilizing enjoyable skills and abilities has drawn an estimated 5 million Americans to manage their own home-based businesses. Despite the many advantages, 90 percent of home-based business fail each year due to lack of planning.

Convert your business idea into a workable plan. A business plan shows you where you are going and how you expect to get there. In a simple way, it describes the product or service you will provide. Below are key factors of a business plan:

- Business name. This is a small but significant part of your image.
- Business description. Describe the business and what you will sell or what service you will provide.
- Personal and business objective. Determine your reasons for starting a business. These may include financial security, creative expression, or recognition.
- Market definition. Determine the potential customers for your product or service.
- Description of competition. Determine what makes your product or service better than your competitors? Will the differences make your product or service more marketable?
- Selling price and profit. Set the selling price and profit of your product or service. Be sure you can earn a satisfactory income in the business.

► Equipment and supplies. List all the equipment and supplies needed. Can you use items you already have?

► Professional assistance. Determine if your business will need the assistance of a professional such as a lawyer or an accountant.

► Expenses and financing. Many home-based businesses fail as a result of insufficient financing. Carefully compute your need for funding by determining your money needs for the first six months, cash flow projections, and projected profit and loss statement. Free forms may be obtained for these computations by calling the Consumer Money Management Center at 388-4710. It is important to provide for funds to carry you through the first six months and provide for any emergencies since most businesses take months or years to show a profit.

More information on starting a home-based business may be obtained by contacting the Small Business Administration at 863-4449 or the Small Business Development Center at 865-4578.

Merry, doubly Merry Christmas all! Enjoy!

As I write these lines, a couple of days before Christmas Day, my mind whirls—as most of us—with last minute thoughts and plans for the holidays.

I've shopped and wrapped packages and baked and cooked up all sorts of tidbits, and am now slowing down a bit before I head for Christmas celebrations in Mandeville (Louisiana) with my family—always a special time, of course!

Then it's home again, to cook up those black-eyed peas for New Year's Day, to ensure luck in the coming year!

There's still time to mix up a few special tidbits for the holiday festivities, if you haven't finished doing so, already. One of the quickest and most elegant, is a creamy crabmeat dip which is one of Thelma Yockey's specialties. Here's:

CRAB CONTINENTAL

- 1 lb. fresh crabmeat
  - 1 large package Philadelphia Cream Cheese
  - 1 stick butter (you need real butter for this—but, after all, it's Christmastime!)
  - 2 "toes" fresh garlic
- Peel the garlic toes and mash with the flat edge of a knife, then saute in butter over a low fire for several minutes. Remove from the fire. Add the cream cheese, softened to room temperature—it will take on a slightly curdled appearance, but not to worry, just stir well together, then add the crabmeat.

Maintain the low heat, and cook the mixture till it is well blended and heated. Add grindings of black pepper to your taste.

Serve in chafing dish or fondue pot, or such, with mildly flavored crackers for dipping, lest you overpower the delicate taste of the crabmeat itself. This is delicious, also, as a filling for small pastry shells or topping for toast triangles.

- 1. Key board
- 2. Baby doll
- 3. High heels
- 4. Lipsteak

But what I really want is an Atari, like my brother where we can share and I only want 6 tapes to go with the Atari, they are: Mario Brothers, Pac Man, Frogger, Football, KonKeyKong and a racing car game tape.

One more thing, could you please get me a Madonna tape. And anything you get me!

High school who's who honorees announced

A total of 84 students from this area have been included in the 21st annual edition of 'Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1988-89.'

Who's Who, published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Ill., is the largest high school recognition publication in the country.

Students are nominated by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches or by the publishing company based upon students' performance in scholarship award contests or extracurricular activities.

Final selection is determined on the basis of criteria which include high achievement in academics and leadership in school activities, athletics or community service.

Traditionally, 99 percent of Who's Who students have a grade point average of "B" or better and 97 percent are college bound.

The 21st edition of Who's Who, published in 12 regional volumes, features 550,000 students, or five percent of the nation's 12,000,000 high school students. They represent 18,000 of the 22,000 public, private and parochial high schools in the country.

Who's Who students also compete for over $85,000 in scholarship awards and participate in the publication's annual opinion poll of teen attitudes. The book is distributed to over 15,000 high schools, colleges, universities and public libraries throughout the country.

Local students selected for this year's volumes include:

Accounting option added to USM Gulf Coast degree program

LONG BEACH—University of Southern Mississippi/Gulf Coast students now may earn a bachelor's degree in business administration with an accounting option.

The new accounting option—coinciding with the association at USM of Dr. James Honea as an associate professor of business administration, specializing in accounting—will be offered beginning with the spring term in February. Options in management and marketing already are offered.

Dr. John Burch, associate professor of business administration at USM/Gulf Park, explained how the new option works.

"It's a 130-semester-hour bachelor's degree, including a broad range of business courses, with 27 required (semester) hours of upper-level accounting," Burch said. "It's a B.S. with a major in business administration, with an accounting option."

"It will prepare (students) for a career in accounting," he added. "It will prepare them for a career in business in general, but particularly in accounting."

Required upper-level accounting courses will include Intermediate Accounting 1 and 2, Cost Accounting 1, Income Tax 1 and 2, Fund Accounting, Auditing and Advanced Accounting 1 and 2.

Burch maintained that the new program will increase business employment options for USM/Gulf coast graduates, who already have found ample employment opportunities.

"Our people are all up and down the coast, probably in every bank, every major industry, in government, education, the whole works," he said. "I'd hate to start naming places for fear of leaving something out."

Because of the broad business base of the accounting option, Burch said the door also is open for graduates to pursue further education as well.

"This program would be a perfectly good prerequisite for the M.B.A. (master of business administration) degree," he said.

For more information about the new accounting option, call Burch or, beginning in January, call Burch at (601) 885-4528.

Program. White says by collecting labels the school can qualify for donations of books and audio-visual materials. Other primary painters on the project were Brian Myers and Jim Clark. The project was completed under the direction of Mrs. Willie Shook. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

Tatum, Carver named Mr. & Miss PRC

Joey Tatum of Picayune and Tracey Carver of Waveland have been elected Mr. and Miss Pearl River Junior College by PRC students during recent campus elections.

Tatum, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tatum of Picayune, and 1986 graduate of Picayune Memorial High School, is also serving as Student Body President.

Carver, a 1986 graduate of Bay Senior High School in Bay St. Louis, was elected queen of this year's PRC Homecoming Court. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carver of Waveland.

Neither Tatum or Carver are newcomers to student government and extracurricular activities at the River, but both were excited about this most recent honor. "This is a terrific honor," Tatum told the Dixie Drawl, PRC's student newspaper. "I'm thankful."

Tatum, a sophomore mathematics major, was elected freshman class president, and was chosen as a Freshman Class Favorite last year. He is an active member of the PRC Baptist Student Union, and is a member of the choral group "River-Road." He was also kicker for the Pearl River Wildcats.

Carver was also chosen as a Freshman Class Favorite and was elected secretary/treasurer of the Student Council. She is also a member of Phi Theta Kappa honor society.

Campus favorites selected

Pearl River College freshman and sophomore campus favorites have been selected.

Sophomore Favorites include Rhonda Harper, Bay St. Louis; Amy Magee, Bay St. Louis; Susan Patrick, Covington, La.; Korkey

Kerley, Prentiss; Reuben McDowell, Columbia; and Donnie Powell, Shreveport, La.

Freshman Favorites include Sherrie Campbell, Purvis; Darla Daniels, Poplarville; Gina Stringer, Foxworth; Brett Golson, Bassfield; Scott Nease, DeRidder, La.

Pass students score in top two percent

Pass Christian Public School District takes great pride in recognition of outstanding academic performance, according to Superintendent LeRoy Lizana.

The Stanford Achievement Test, a national standardized test, was given in April, 1987, to all students in grades K-8.

Recognition was given to students who scored at the 98th percentile or better on any one major subtest: reading, mathematics, language arts, science or social studies.

Since the 50th percentile is the national average score, students scoring at the 98th percentile are at a level far above the average.

"You might say that this is the Super Bowl in academic achievement," the superintendent said.

The School Board of Trustees held a special commendation ceremony for those super achievers. Certificates of Achievement were presented to each student by Lizana, Assistant Superintendent of Education Dr. Lorice Broome, and School Board Vice-president Ron Massey.

The 'Top Two' students include Jeremiah Buel, Michael Tillman, Jason Madigan, Huy Thai, Shawn Salvant and Andrea Armstrong of Pass Christian School; Jaime Jenkins, Robert Lumpkin, Shirley Nguyen, Dinh Mai, Ai Nguyen, Nguyet Nguyen and Lindsay Wallace of Pass Elementary School; and Jesmyn Ward, Cedric Tasselin and Heidi Massey of DeLisle Elementary.

Students who scored at the 98th percentile or better on any one major subtest include Tiffany Hall, Jessie Bryant, Jennifer Kozen, Kathy Nguyen, Rochelle Saucier, Hung Thai, Sanh Tran, Angie Ladner, Chris Ladner, Aaron Necaise, Anh Nguyen, Dung Nguyen, Tinh Nguyen, Nguyet Tran, Jenni McKay and Suzanne Riddle, Pass Middle School.

Also, Nicholas Garziano, Neil Holloman, Stefan Kern, Katherine Kereger, Chalmers Davis, Wendy Wright, Andrew Lanclos, Allison Adams, Chrystal Haynes, Leon

Hayden, Lisa Schottenhamel, Hung Nguyen, Hyacinth Capple, Ashley Cox, Hoa Dang, Violet Fields, Iris Lizana, Tennifer Terrell, Bich Tran, David Thomas and Brett Riddle, Pass Christian Elementary School.

And, Welsey Cuevas, William Sabree, Alesha Vagely, Stacey Price, Chris Ladner, Charity Ladner, Brian Ladner, Jessica Hug-

Standard of living depends on education

RESTON, Va.—If America hopes to have excellent education, families must play a greater role, according to the chief executive of the nation's largest school administrator organization.

"We all need to gain renewed respect for the central role families play in student success at school," contends Scott Thomson, executive director, National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Recalling a recent trip to Singapore which he had not visited for 35 years, Thomson indicated that trishaw drivers had been replaced by computer scientists and there was an "unbelievable improvement" in the standard of living.

"How did they do it?", asks Thomson. "Not with natural resources, because they have none. Singapore did it with education, and with a culture that places schooling first on the family agenda."

Once Singapore schools adopted a modern western curriculum, the emphasis on learning in their culture moved their people forward at a rapid rate, according to the NASSP chief executive.

"I saw parents helping students with homework in bus stations and airports on weekends," he reports. "I joined school meetings where every single student was represented by at least one adult. I observed families that control television viewing with no apologies. This culture and these parents exhibit a singlemindedness about education. Horace Mann would have understood. He also would have approved."

Thomson believes Asian students may have the upper hand on their American counterparts because of this difference in priorities.

"Somehow, too many Americans have become casual about schooling," he feels. "Other priorities interfere. Or there appear to be no priorities at all. Thus, many students become indifferent. Cars or jobs or compact discs get first choice."

He recalls studying a group of schools in 1978 where SAT scores had not declined and discovering that the one common factor among all those schools was the emphasis the local community placed on schooling.

"So what is new?", asks Thomson.

"Parents have always made a difference. The 'new' is the larger world out there today, a competitive world where some cultures actually give a higher priority to schooling than does mainstream American society."

"The real competition for America in the future is not the automobile factories of Japan. The real competition in the long run is the preference given to schooling by the families of some other cultures."

Thomson suggests a number of ways in which families can support their student's education:

► Congratulate students on outstanding performances in the classroom. Sometimes more recognition is given youngsters for achievement on the sports field or for cleaning their room.

► Emphasize the importance of education. If students understood that their parents believe learning is important, it's more likely they will, too. Communicate the fact that what students achieve in the classroom today is an investment in their future. ► Schedule some educational outings for your family, especially when children are younger. Trips to museums, the zoo, a children's museum, local business, and other places and events can make learning more meaningful.

"Parents are the child's first teacher and continue to play a crucial role throughout their education careers," says Thomson. "Parental support can be a crucial factor in student achievement."

Dear Community:

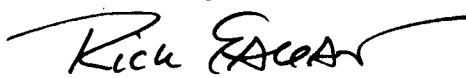

A Chamber of Commerce has been defined as "people working together to make their community a better place to live and work."

Now that we know what a Chamber is, what does it actually do? What does that mean to me, as a businessman, a resident, or a tourist? What benefits can I derive from the Chamber of Commerce?

A Chamber of Commerce is an action agency designed to meet the needs of the community. It is a voluntary organization of individuals and businesses who band together to advance the commercial, financial, industrial and civic interests of the community. It is a civic clearinghouse, a public relations counselor, a legislative representative at the local, state and national levels of government, an information bureau and a research and promotion medium.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is all of these and much more, and we are pleased to provide you with the following information so you can better understand us, how we work and what we do.

Sincerely,

Rick Eagan
President

Chamber Basics

What's It All About!

The mission statement of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, as written in its by-laws, is to promote the civic, economic and social welfare of the people of Hancock County with particular emphasis upon development of jobs and promotion of retail, industrial and agricultural business.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce was originally chartered as the Bay St. Louis Chamber in 1925. The corporate name was officially changed to the Hancock County Chamber in 1945.

Since that time the Chamber has expanded and grown with this community. It has cooperated with local governments and boards of education. It has assisted in the location of industry and organized everything from county beautification projects to jail bond issues. It has become a respected voice representing the business as well as the local citizenry in this community.

The Chamber is striving to make Hancock County a better place in which to live and newly elected president.

The outgoing president automatically becomes a member of the following year's board. The board serves without compensation, and its primary duty is to set the policies for the community development is determined by its goals which are usually called a Program of Work.

The Program of Work, which is established by the various committees, is evaluated and revised on an annual basis. These committees begin their work each year by holding meetings to create lists of objectives, which are then brought to the board for approval.

To handle issues or problems of an immediate nature the president, with approval from the board, appoints a task force.

Community events are a part of the Chamber's projects, and it sponsors the annual tree lighting ceremony work.

The Chamber is governed by a 20-member Board of Directors, 15 of whom are elected by the general membership to serve a three-year term and four directors appointed annually by the Chamber.

The executive director is employed by the board to handle the day-to-day operations of the office and to assist in carrying out the policies set by the board of directors.

and the arrival of Santa Claus to officially open the Christmas season.

Also during Christmas a shop-at-home campaign is implemented by the Chamber to promote local business for its members.

A membership banquet is held each year, at which time the Outstanding Citizen of Hancock County award is presented. This is a person chosen on the basis of personal contributions to the community.

Also at the banquet an award is presented to the outstanding high school graduate selected from one of the five area high schools. This award is known as the Dick Kosbab Memorial Award, presented in honor of Dick Kosbab, who was an asset to the Chamber board and a vital member of the Education Committee.

Each year a young lady between the ages of 18 and 22 is selected to represent the Chamber at various functions throughout the year. A Miss Hospitality Pageant is also held by the Chamber, in conjunction with the cities and the county, so that Hancock County will have a representative at the state level.

During high school graduation exercises, Outstanding Student awards are presented at each high school to the senior who has been chosen by respective schools as the one who exemplifies fine character, respect of peers and faculty and academic excellence.

Mississippi Department of Economic Development to the industries who have contributed the most to the economic expansion and civic development of their community.

On the local level, the Chamber, in cooperation with the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, was instrumental in implementing the first annual Hancock County Salute to Business and Industry.

Other activities in which the Chamber is involved include providing coffee and doughnuts at the annual Easter Sunrise Service, various ribbon cuttings to welcome new businesses, participation in area organizations, and continuous contributions to improve the quality of life in the area.

Each year, the Chamber undertakes issues as they arise and become public concerns. During 1986, the Chamber

- * Supported the petition to four-lane Highway 603

- * Adopted a resolution opposing the closing of USM's Gulf Park Campus

- * The Education Committee was involved with the election of Dr. Oge' as the new Bay St. Louis-Waveland Superintendent of Education

- * The Beautification Committee, in cooperation with the cities and the Board of Supervisors and others, sponsored Hancock County Clean Our Beach Day, during which over 400 people participated and the project has been honored by being the only Mississippi finalist in the National Take Pride in America Campaign Awards

- * Adopted a resolution opposing the State Highway Patrol cutbacks and asked other Chambers across the Coast to do the same

- * Sponsored public forums on the Unit System so voters would be well informed

LEONARD BOCKMAN

Chamber schedules contract procurement seminar on Wednesday

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a free seminar on the Mississippi Contract Procurement Center in Gulfport on Wednesday, March 25, from 7-9 p.m. at the Chamber office.

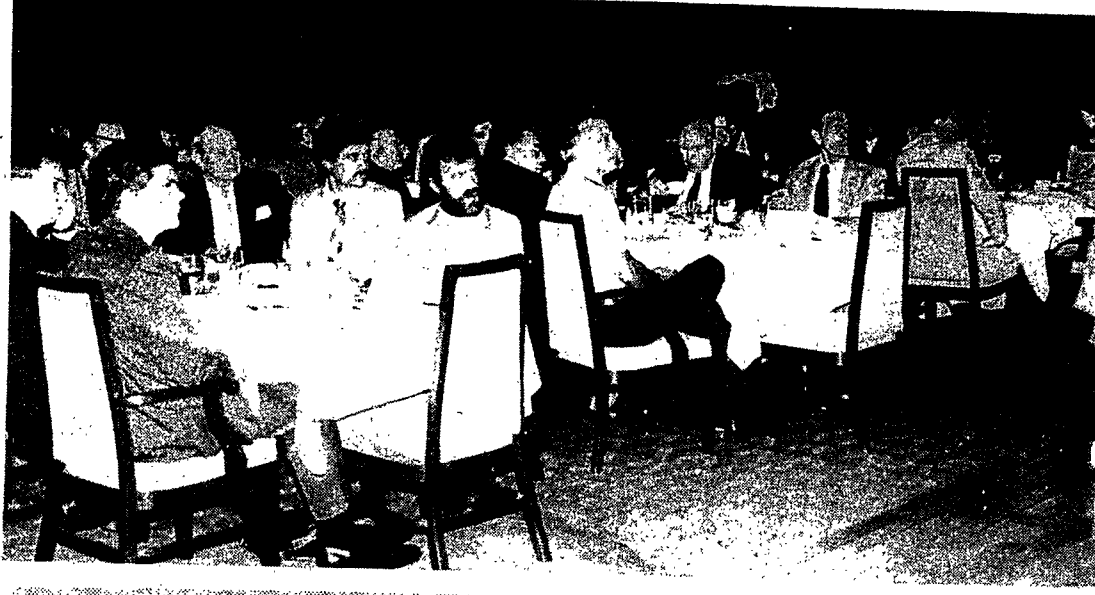

Leonard Bockman, director of the center, will be the speaker for the seminar and will discuss such topics as Federal/DOD contract opportunities, helpful information on bid preparations, technical assistance and free inclusion in the "Contractor's Register," a computerized data bank of current formal bid opportunities.

Bockman is a retired Lieutenant Colonel from the U.S. Army Military Academy in West Point with 27 years of distinguished service. He served as Chief Procurement Officer in Vietnam, Procurement Inspector General in Europe, Procurement Instructor at Fort Lee, Va., and was a designated Department of Defense Procurement Specialist.

The public is cordially invited to attend the seminar, and further information is available by contacting the Chamber office at 467-9048.

of the State of Mississippi is also available at the Chamber office. These maps are passed out, free of charge, in limited quantities.

► Directories, Listings, Brochures and Periodicals

In order to communicate Hancock County's resources and opportunities to interested prospective businesses, industries and residents, the Chamber compiles and maintains various reports and listings of the county's multiple community aspects. Brochures and literature are kept on file in the Chamber's brochure and literature racks, including information on businesses, area points of interest and other pertinent data.

► Governor's Hot Line

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is responsible for increasing public awareness of the Governor's Hot Line. By calling upon this statewide service through the Chamber, persons can obtain information pertaining to any activity or action under the jurisdiction of the State of Mississippi.

► Membership Directory

A list of members of the Chamber is compiled annually and provided to newcomers and other interested persons as a guide to firms and individuals who are members of the Chamber.

► Newcomer Inquiry File

The Chamber is the front door of the community and has an opportunity to greet newcomers when they arrive to the area. Numerous letters and visits from persons interested in locating here are received by the Chamber daily. A list of their names is compiled monthly for use by Chamber members, and these persons are also provided with brochures and other information indicative to the county.

► Research Capabilities

The Chamber's staff is familiar with a wide range of statistical and data-related information relevant to Hancock County and the State of Mississippi. The research files contain many government publications, local research and planning reports and other documents detailing the area's economic activities. The Chamber also works very closely with other organizations and agencies for persons requiring specific data.

► Seminars and Workshops

Staying abreast of community needs is a part of the Chamber's overall mission, and periodically it sponsors seminars and workshops on topics of interest to the community and its members. These might include business symposiums, business education or any subject of particular interest or urgency to groups or members.

► Speaker's Bureau

The Chamber's membership and staff represent a versatile potential group of speakers that embrace a broad range of knowledge from economic development to any aspect of community betterment.

► Tourist Inquiry file

Many requests for tourist information are received by the Chamber daily. Some specify exact or approximate times of planned visits, and most seek information concerning accommodations, attractions and points of interest.

The Chamber office, located on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis, houses the two-person staff and the many RSVP volunteers who all represent a cross-section of the county.

Hundreds of phone calls pour in daily from every imaginable location, each asking every imaginable question.

The Chamber is the nerve center of a county as it is the one place that business people—local and visitor alike—can turn for a helping hand.

The Chamber stands as a resource for those in need of important business information; as a catalyst for economic development; as a monitor of governmental activities and how they affect business.

And, because of the financial and resource support of the business community, the Chamber has persevered during bad times and has provided steady leadership during good times.

The Chamber handles a myriad of activities and duties for its multidisciplinary environment. The office is a busy place—it is regularly used by area organizations for their monthly meetings and by the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE) for those who need counseling before beginning a new business.

Last year it handled 7,500 pieces of mail, 10,000 telephone calls, 5,000 office visitors, 3,000 tourist inquiries, 8,000 general information calls, 2,000 housing inquiries, and 1,000 market information requests.

Abraham Lincoln, speaking on community involvement, once said, "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives; and I like to see him live in that place so it will be proud of him."

The Chamber's hope for our community in the coming year is for a greater involvement by its people in doing those things which need to be done, working together to make Hancock County a better place in which to live and make a living.

UNIT SYSTEM—About 100 people attended the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Morning Edition Thursday to hear a discussion on the County Unit System.
